

Dear Patient,

It has come to our attention that you are overdue a cervical smear. This may be because you have not received/missed a letter from the Cervical Screening Administration Services or forgotten to make an appointment for the same.

Women are routinely invited to have cervical smear screening tests to prevent cervical cancer, therefore we encourage that you book an appointment at your earliest convenience. For more information on this, please see <https://www.nhs.uk/conditions/cervical-screening/>

We would therefore be grateful if you could call us to book an appointment for a cervical smear.

If you wish to defer or cease screening, please follow the link, and follow the instructions <https://www.csas.nhs.uk/contact-us/>

Yours Sincerely

Quedgeley Medical Centre
